

Masters of Multimedia

Exam Board: Microsoft/Adobe

Duration: 1 Year

What is it worth?

GCSE equivalent at Industry standard

Why take this course?

This is a perfect course for students who wish to forge a career in the ICT industry it will give you qualifications which are widely recognised within the ICT industry.

Who is it for?

This course is ideal for anyone wanting to go on to a job in the ICT industry, especially careers using any of the Microsoft or Adobe suites.

What does this course involve?

This course will look at industry standard skills and qualifications and look at the higher level skills involved in working in the ICT industry.

What possible progression routes are available after taking this course?

This course would leave students with the ideal base to continue on and work in the ICT industry.

What are the special features?

This course will look at the different industry speciality packages in much more detail and competence than regular GCSE courses

What possible careers follow on from this course?

ICT fits in across most careers but if you wish to specialise in an IT career you may want to consider some of the following examples: network manager, systems analyst, help desk operator, technical support officer, programmer, web designer, graphic designer, software engineer.

What skills will you develop?

You will develop a range of high level ICT skills including Word, excel and access. You will also look at the advance features of Adobe such as Dreamweaver, flash and fireworks.

How you will be assessed?

This is assessed by computer based exams which can be taken and retaken at any time which uses the software which you will be tested on.

Who do I see for further information?

Mr Chapman or Miss Baxter

Information Communication Technology

New Course
2012